

the 14th of april

Brings the bengali new year oh what a joyous time it is

But beware

It also brings the norwester

Which sets us all in fear

Nevertheless the day is celebrated by all

By wearing red white and so much more

And i have to say

Its way more colourful than fall

Bright masks and parades

Fills the streets with life

And we will celebrate this happy day

For its so memorable and we dont want it to go away
