

Shubho Noboborsho

Today's the big day!

Everyone is here to say:

Shubho Noboborsho!

To anyone they see!

And, from the opposite building, a family was waving at me!

I was happy to see no one was angry or sad with tears.

People had forgotten their worries, and of course their fears.

People wore clothes with the colours red and white.

Today was so happy, everything was colourful and bright.
