

New Beginnings

Syeda Ameerah Hoque

We often wish for a chance,
To have a new beginning,
To start anew,
To forget everything, restart our lives and make new memories.

These chances are not given easily,
Nor are they very easy to find.
It does not happen by luck,
Nor by the help of a genie.

A new start requires a desire,
It craves passion,
It requires will,
It needs strength.

A new beginning has a recipe;
It needs a little hope,
A little bit of sunshine and a small bit of rain,
It has to have a pinch of forgiveness and another drop of compassion.
It wants the ingredients the world has forgotten.

So once given a chance at a new beginning;

We must not hesitate and give it our best shot.

We should do the things that we chose to neglect before.