

High Hopes For You, Future!

Every year we start,
We have a mind, set to start afresh.

The moments of smiles,
The accomplished goals after running miles,
The tears of joy after hearing magical news,
Can they be forgotten because of the bad fews.

The howls of pain,
The violent arguments,
The sad goodbyes,
Will always be a nightmare.

If its left to bare.

The past should be forgiven not forgotten.
The reason of moving on shouldn't be memories of danger,
The reason of moving on should be the hopes for future.

The past should be cherished.

The present should be lived.

The future should be just a hopeful surprise!
